Head Teacher's News

The weather has been steadily building this week, resulting in an absolutely scorching Friday! This is perfect timing for our Festival of Colour at the school tomorrow, featuring our first ever Colour Run! It promises to be an absolutely excellent day – the PTA have been working extremely hard that this will be the most colourful, most exciting Summer Fete yet. Thank you very much to everyone who has contributed in advance or will be helping on the day. This year, we are raising funds to extend our hugely popular play trail to add these amazing features. Please do come along and, if you haven't signed up to help out but still can, please do!

Over the past two weeks, we have arranged a couple of moderation visits from Bucks CC to help us make sure that our judgements about the children, after 3 years of disruption and 2 years with no statutory assessment, are as accurate as possible. As always, I was blown away by the quality of learning that the children have been producing throughout the curriculum. Both moderators who visited confirmed how the accuracy of the judgements of our teachers is underpinned by just how well they know the children.

This morning, the hall was slightly busier for Open Collective Worship than last week – which is great. If you are able to, please do come and see our Leaders running celebration worship; there is lots of singing and celebrating our achievements. Today, we handed out a Mustard Seed of the Week award to Oliver in Year 5/6, inspired by today's Google Doodle of Amanda Aldridge. She was an incredible opera and parlour singer who, after losing her ability to sing, used her talents to help others by becoming a teacher of some of the finest singers of her generation. Whilst not yet singing opera, Oliver has absolutely shone recently with his incredible acting in rehearsals for the KS2 performance of Peter Pan.

Have a lovely weekend and we look forward to seeing you on Monday.

'It is like a mustard seed, which is the smallest of all seeds on earth. Yet when planted it grows and becomes the largest of all garden plants, with such big branches that the birds can perch in its shade.'

Nurture. Grow. Shine

Star of the Week

Lily for persevering with her reading and independent writing and doing an outstanding job with both

Teddy for working hard to improve his handwriting

Harry for being focussed and working really hard in English and Maths

Markel for his enthusiasm in class and confidence in contributing to class discussion
